

METHODISTS TO GIVE WAR SCHOLARSHIPS

This is Part of the Reconstruction Program of That Denomination.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. March 12.—War scholarships to assist young ex-service men to return to college or preparatory school and complete their education interrupted by the war, have been instituted as a part of its war reconstruction program by the board of foreign missions and church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church according to announcement by Dr. Appleton D. Bash, Pittsburgh area secretary of the Centenary Conservation Committee. These scholarships range from $150 per annum for young men in preparatory schools to $250 for those in colleges. Approximately $150,000 is to be employed in this program covering the next five years. "Many of these scholarships are now being granted to cover the present term of the college year," Dr. Bash said, "and applications have come in from students in nearly every institution in this country." As quickly as these applications can be properly investigated they are acted upon, so that the aid becomes effective at once. This plan of giving war scholarships was included in the war reconstruction program of the board of home missions and church extension drawn up in preparation for the great campaign to raise the $112,000,000 Centenary offering in 1919. It is one of the many enterprises made possible by the $12,500,000 now set aside for this work. Now that the funds have become available, the board is pushing the aid for young ex-service men with all possible speed, realizing that their great time of need is now. "The primary requirement for a young man to apply for such a scholarship is that he is able to show an honorable discharge from the military service of the United States or that of any of its allies in the world war. Any one who served in the U. M. C. A., Red Cross or allied welfare organizations are also eligible for these scholarships. Many of these are now being awarded for a variety of different specialties such as architecture, chemical, mining, and civil engineering, journalism, agriculture, banking, medicine, dentistry, surgery, law, advertising, ministry, music, social work, pedagogy, statistics and bacteriology."
